

"ENTE URU" VILLAGE EXPERIENCES

Duration	2 hours
Guided	Yes
Prior booking required	No

From a variety of plantations to tribal settlements and country roads, the "Ente Uru" programme takes you on an adventurous journey where you can discover the local life, labour, flora & fauna of the surrounding villages.

Chandran, your guide is well versed in the local demography and as he puts it, is an expert by experience in the wild and plant life of the surrounding forests. Chandran who hails from the local community is also an active member of the After the Rains planation and also is a forest watcher in peak summers.

In the particular activity, an area about 5 to 6 kms is covered, and is done in the evenings. There are different trails developed which are used according to the season and client interest. The programme starts with a small insight of the locality, and as you start walking, you discover some interesting facts about lemon grass, eucalypt trees, areca nut processing, tea plucking and many more.

Chandran, being a sincere story teller can entertain you with the local stories of culture, tradition and way of life of the area. The Ente Uru programme with Chandran is a must do for every traveller to After the Rains who is looking for a unique, rural and adventurous experience.
